ASRA FORUM

The ASRA Forum is currently unavailable due to software incompatibility. The latest version of our Forum software will not work until the underlying PHP (programming) software platform is upgraded. Unfortunately the current ASRA website shares this PHP platform.

We are in the process of upgrading the website with other functions and content changes and it would be unwise to upgrade the PHP platform until all of these other changes to the website have been completed.

So until we have the new ASRA website ready we cannot upgrade the software to allow the ASRA forum to continue to run.

We will notify members via the website and Gyronews when the forum is again live.
